sault took place on a public road some time yesterday. About 5 o'clock in the afternoon the girl was found crawling along the road. Her throat was cut in three places, and she was otherwise injured. Soon after being found the girl lapsed into unconsclousness from which she never unconsciousness, from which she never The police think they have the right person in White, who was arrested while in bed last night on the Woodward farm. The accused negro does not admit the crime, but the police say they have practically positive evidence of his guilt. A knife found at the scene of the assault was identified today by White's employers as belonging to the accused, but White insists it does not. White was removed this afternoon from the Wilmington jail to the county workhouse, which is only one mile from the scene of the assault.
